MARVELL TECHNOLOGY GROUP LTD. ANNOUNCES PROGRESS ON ACQUISITION OF GALILEO TECHNOLOGY LTD.

Sunnyvale, Calif. (November 28, 2000) - Marvell Technology Group Ltd. (NASDAQ:MRVL) today reported that it continues to make progress toward completing its acquisition of Galileo Technology Ltd. (NASDAQ:GALT).

On October 17, 2000, Marvell and Galileo announced that their boards of directors unanimously approved a definitive agreement under which Marvell will acquire Galileo. Depending upon the timing of final regulatory and shareholder approvals, the merger is expected to close in the first calendar quarter of 2001.

"Both Marvell and Galileo are working diligently toward the completion of this acquisition, which will combine two leading companies into an IC-communications powerhouse," said Dr. Sehat Sutardja, President and CEO of Marvell Technology Group Ltd. "Since announcing this proposed business combination, we have made the required filings under the Hart Scott Rodino Antitrust Improvement Act and filed our preliminary joint proxy-prospectus with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Because Galileo is incorporated in Israel, we also filed our Merger Proposal before the Israeli Companies Registrar, which began the 70-day waiting period under Israeli law."

Additionally, Marvell and Galileo recently posted "Frequently Asked Questions" about the proposed merger on their Web sites to aid shareholders in better understanding the technologies of both companies, the near-term and longer-term synergies expected from the merger, and the proposed transaction itself. These "FAQs" can be accessed at www.marvell.com or at www.galileot.com.
